

Agreement Between the Argentine Federation of Radiology (FAARDIT) and the European Society of Thoracic Imaging (ESTI)

The FAARDIT and ESTI agree to establish a cooperation agreement with the purpose of promoting scientific exchange between both societies:

1. Promote the exchange of information and stimulate actions between both entities.
2. Encourage the participation of Argentine radiologists and ESTI members in congresses, workshops, courses, and other scientific events organized by both associations.
 - FAARDIT members will be entitled to a preferential registration fee, equivalent to that of ESTI members, for courses and congresses organized by the ESTI.
 - ESTI members will be entitled to a preferential registration fee, equivalent to that of FAARDIT members, for courses, virtual activities, and congresses organized by FAARDIT.
3. Promote the training and integration of professionals through scholarships and exchanges between both radiological communities.
4. Promote exchanges between major academic and research groups.
5. Disseminate educational activities, books, journals, and publications in the specialty in both societies.
6. Facilitate the publication of scientific papers bilaterally.
7. Promote the translation of papers, protocols, and regulations.
8. FAARDIT offers to jointly coordinate with ESTI those Continuing Education Courses deemed appropriate, providing our Technical Secretariat. These courses will include both local and Argentine professors. The Scientific Committee will consist of professors from both countries.

These concepts constitute the framework within which the Argentine Federation of Radiology and the European Society of Thoracic Imaging a preferential relationship between their members.
